NEWS AND EVENTS

Since we've said goodbye to the resi department, Hugh's taken on the shop and is busy giving it a new identity. He's been meticulously going through everything, returning leftover items from completed jobs, and checking incoming deliveries to make sure we're getting exactly what we ordered. As you see him zip around, you might notice that the #IsHughEven-Human vibe is still strong, even with this new role. As you swing by to grab or return gear, just remember, Hugh's watching. The systems are getting more dialed by the day, and we're starting to wonder if he ever leaves—It's like he's become a permanent fixture around here.

Ready to elevate your hard hat game? We're kicking off our brand-new sticker training program! Every training session you successfully complete earns you a unique sticker to creatively decorate your hard hat into your personal hall of fame, each sticker a testament to your skills. But here's the twist: the ultimate goal is to keep up with or (even better) out-sticker Steve, who boldly and quite daringly claims nobody is beating him! Can you do it? Let's elevate our game and make those hard hats look as storied as a well-traveled suitcase. Collect them all and show us how you're stacking up!

PROJECT SPOTLIGHT

ROSAUERS

This month, we're taking a closer look at our project at Rosauers in Libby, where our team delivered an impressive suite of electrical upgrades. The project was managed by James and led by Brian Borton, our foreman with 30 years under his tool belt. Interestingly, both Brian and the building share the same birth year.

The team launched an ambitious overhaul, installing LED lighting retrofits, new appliances for the meat department, and heat tracing on the roof. The upgrades continued with new circuitry, panels, rooftop units, and a stand-alone lighting control system. For a touch of modern convenience, a new manual transfer switch was added along with a remodeled deli area complete with new plugs, lights, and power sources.

Chance, the third man to the team, enjoyed the challenge of configuring the switchgear and admired how smoothly everyone worked together, thanks to the general contractor's support. Chance was also impressed by Brian's deep knowledge, which made learning on the job a great experience.

Great job guys!!!

CORE VALUE EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

NICK DAUENHAUER

Give it up for Nick Dauenhauer, our estimation ace who just landed Employee of the Month like he lands us those big projects we love so much. He's the living, breathing definition of all our core values squished into one incredibly dedicated human. He takes pride in everything he does, paying attention to every detail so it's as perfect as a six-dart finish in 301 (which he's done by the way). It's not all about dialing in numbers though. Nick's also a wizard at creating and nurturing customer relationships. His straightforward, no-nonsense approach has a way of keeping everyone on the same page, and keeps our client relations on solid ground.

Oh and, the humor! Nick has a knack for keeping things lively around here. He is CONSTANTLY stirring the pot. You think you're having a serious conversation with him? Wait for it... he'll drop a jab as he's walking away. He 's quick and can't help himself.

Off the clock, Nick's hunting...

...oh? You thought there'd be more? No, that's it. We're not even sure he knows there are other options.

Thank you, Nick! You're like a puzzle with half the pieces missing, but somehow, you still complete the picture around here. Don't change a thing.
